A NOTE FROM THE HONORARY EDITOR

Elsewhere in this issue you will read that the REV. JAMES BROGAN, whose photograph we publish by kind permission of the Presbyterian Herald, has been installed as minister of the joint charge of Clontarf and Ormond Quay and Scots, two of the largest congregations in the Presbytery. Readers of the Presbyterian Herald will recall that he contributed a fine article about his work in the Home Mission to the middle-page spread of the April 1992 issue. Our correspondent from Mullingar congregation refers on another page of this bulletin to Mr Brogan's gifts as a preacher. I can only testify to his ready wit - an undoubted asset to any minister of the gospel. I asked him in the course of our recent telephone conversation if he had much knowledge of Gaelic. 'Enough for self-defence' was his quick reply.

At the recent service in St Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, to mark the opening of the new Dáil, the Archbishop, Dr Donald Caird, greeted those present in Irish, of which language he is a fluent speaker. Mr Brogan replied 'in kind'. Happily, he is only one of a number of ministers of the Presbyterian Church who are both acquainted with and well disposed towards the ancestral tongue.

James Brogan is a native of Scotland and a graduate of Edinburgh University. In 1968 he was ordained minister of Shiskine and Sliderry in the Free Church of Scotland. In his Herald article last April he wrote:

...It is hard to believe that four and a half years have passed since we left the Isle of Arran and the Free Church of Scotland, and arrived in Kells, Co. Meath.

The General Assembly of 1987 accepted my application to become a minister of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland, and it was arranged that I should serve for a year as ordained assistant to Rev. Robin Mac Dermott, then minister of Rathgar, and convener of the vacant charge of Kells, Corboy and Mullingar.

In all three congregations we were made very welcome, and before the year had expired it was made evident that the people wanted the ministry to continue. Accepting their unanimity as a sign from God that we should remain, I made formal application to be appointed as minister of the united charge...

Now, after five years in the three-point charge of Kells, Corboy and Mullingar and about twenty-five years in the ministry, Mr Brogan has answered God's call to the pastorate of two strong city congregations. He succeeds the Rev. David J Bruce, who last year became general director of Scripture Union in Northern Ireland.

My best thanks once again to all those who so faithfully send material to LINK-UP; also to our ever-helpful and efficient printers. May God shower his choicest blessings upon you all in 1993.

ABBEY

The congregational carol service on Sunday morning 20 December was attended by many members and friends of Abbey. They were joined by a large group of young people from Hillsborough, Co. Down, some of whom were among the readers. Another big event in December was the assembling, packing and delivery of hampers to needy individuals and families in the area. The many people in the congregation who enjoy taking part in this effort were joined on that occasion by 'our own Gabrielle Ellis' and the young people from Hillsborough, who with the members of Abbey were looking forward to Gabrielle's ordination to the ministry in Hillsborough on Sunday 24 January. May God bless and strengthen her for her labours in His vineyard!

The young people's assistance was most welcome, especially when the hampers needed to be carried up flights of steps to flats in multi-storey blocks.

The Abbey Magazine, from which we have extracted the foregoing notes, continues to flourish. Its editor is Mrs E Nicholson. One feature always worth reading is 'Abbey Archives'. It may be found on p. 9 of the January magazine. In the December 1992 issue appeared part of a letter from a Miss Young who had gone to the USA to live with her sister Mrs Ritchie: '... We wouldn't like to miss the Abbey Magazine although we are far away, and are always glad to read it from cover to cover - in fact it is much better read than when we were at home'. And the editor asks: 'Should we not be diligent and faithful in sending our own copies, when we have read them, out to those who used to worship with us?' Might I add a similar exhortation with respect to LINK-UP?

The April 1923 issue of the magazine recorded the baptism on 24 March of William Taylor McDowell. He became a distinguished minister of the Church, filled the important and demanding office of Clerk of Presbytery and was awarded the degree of Doctor of Divinity. Remembered with affection by many, his likeness, with an obituary by the Rev. Robin Mac Dermott (now also DD), appeared in our first bulletin in October 1991.

ADELAIDE ROAD DONORE

In October past Adelaide Road Donore received a visitation of Presbytery. This was timely, for only a couple of months before had the congregation heard that planning permission had finally been granted for possible redevelopment of the current church site. This had been sought because of the deteriorating condition of the present 750-seater 151-year-old building and because of the congregation's desire to remain in our location, but in premises conducive to modern-day needs. Presbytery thus encouraged ARD to move forward in faith, so that any future redevelopment behind the façade, which is listed, might usefully serve the community and possibly host a variety of ministries of benefit to the entire Presbytery. Kirk Session are in the process of setting up a number of task groups to gauge future needs; identify possible models of redevelopment from other locations and to access sources of finance, so that we may see how best we might maintain and foster a vibrant Christian witness within the South City centre well into the 21st century.

The visit of the Moderator of the General Assembly on Sunday 20 December 1992 was a great encouragement. The Rt Rev. Dr John Dunlop developed his theme 'Crossing the Frontiers with Christ' and urged us to continually look outwards, even as God had set the example by breaking through space and time in the Incarnation. The United Evening Carol Service attracted a large number of visitors and the praise was accompanied by an orchestra composed of people from a variety of congregations.

We look forward to the ordination of John Scott in Belmont Church, Belfast, on 24 January 1993 and to an RTÉ Television Service on Sunday 14 March.

AGHADA AND TRINITY CORK

Preparations are underway as we write for Christmas services. For the first time Aghada is to have a Christmas Eve service. As well as our usual carol services on the Sunday before Christmas we are planning an 'alternative' gathering, 'Another Look at Christmas' around the fire in Trinity hall, to which we are inviting residents in the community around the church. Our World Development Appeal received a good start with the donation for sale of a crayon sketch of Trinity Church by one of our members.

It was most moving to welcome Stephen Murray to full communicant membership at our autumn communion service. The following week we enjoyed the harvest ministry of Rev. David Searle, minister of Hamilton Rd, Bangor. David also spoke at a bible study group sponsored by Cork Bible Society which meets on Sunday evenings in Blackrock Castle. This interdenominational group, mainly from a Roman Catholic background, were most appreciative of his survey of Jesus' approach to signs and wonders.

Also in October that clever rabbit Jean Pierre paid a visit to the GB Enrolment service, following his debut at the 50th Anniversary celebrations in the Spring. We also welcomed Wilson Gordon, Stephen and Angelina Cowan and Joanne Robinson when the Missionary Roadshow came to Cork and challenged us to fresh concern to pray for missionaries. It was interesting for Stephen and Angelina to share their concern for rural development with farming members of Aghada.

Our Sunday evening meetings at Trinity have moved into the more cosy committee room, where we were stretched for space for a discussion on abortion just prior to the Referendum. It was interesting to see folk who live nearby join us for this, who had received our leaflets through their doors. We probably had every point of view expressed along the pro life to pro choice spectrum!

Please pray that these Sunday night meetings may provide useful opportunities for church members to meet for praise, prayer, study and discussion along with attempts once a month to reach out into the community with films, debates, etc.

In 1993 there will be an experimental change in our Sunday School. Only children of 8 and under will go out to Sunday School. We hope that older children will be able to stay for the whole service with their parents as some already do. A series of monthly meetings will be offered to encourage parents in the task of Christian nurture of their children.

The Administrator of St Luke's Home for the Elderly, Military Hill, Cork, would like help in getting any news of Hester Cook, cousin of Gladys Ruth Cook, formerly of Rathmines. Gladys left Hester a life interest in property in Patrick St, Cork, the property to belong to St Luke's Home on her death. It would be helpful for St Luke's to be able to settle this matter. Plans are being actively pursued to build a new St Luke's on a green field site.

We have also had research enquiries recently about Thomas Dixon and Euphemia Shiels who were married in Clonakilty on 28 Dec. 1866, and about Louise Brierley Hill who married the chemist and surgeon William Robert Wilson in Cork on 8 February 1899. It is just possible that a reader of LINK-UP with previous connections in this area may know something that is not now known locally.

ARKLOW AND GREYSTONES

From "A" and "G" a Happy New Year to everybody! May the Lord Himself fill our Congregations with His grace and wholeness!!

Fellowship in the Christ of the Gospel is a very uplifting experience and that is one of the very many benefits of being the Minister in both Arklow and Greystones. The Congregations have a great working relationship and share in each other's special times e.g. Harvest and Christmas. When Arklow ladies arranged to sing Carols at Rathdrum Hospital, some from Greystones joined in. When the Greystones Carol Service was led by Arklow Silver Band, some from Arklow were there singing merrily.

Both Congregations independently are developing a connection with Interserve. Mark Harper, Arklow, is keen to go on summer work with the Mission. From the Greystones angle, Anna and Paul Johnson (Nepal) are closely linked with the Congregation and Joyce Lee works hard for the Mission in the district.

That same fellowship was shown through all the prayerful and personal support given to Gordon Shailes during the time of Chris's long illness and death. When others are ill, there is evidence of a genuine concern and quiet prayerfulness. The same spirit is seen when others have been going through rough times. What a compassionate Saviour we have!

Both Congregations thoroughly enjoyed the Christmas season. It is wonderful to behold the drawing power of a baby who is Christ the Lord. Full congregations, enthusiastic participation and joyful worship --- all, we pray, bringing delight to our Heavenly Father.

We are looking forward to our Annual Meetings - yes, to try to assess what God has been doing for us and to look forward in anticipation to His guidance and blessing in this new year of opportunity for Him. Diane Petherick and David Temple are two of the visitors we expect in the near future as we endeavour to develop congregational worship and engagement in the wider witness of our Church. Remember us as we seek to pray for you so that we may see Christ's Kingdom advanced and strengthened in the whole of our country.

BALLYMOTE

Work has been completed on our Church Hall. We were delighted to welcome some members from Killinchy Presbyterian Church, Co. Down, to our Harvest Service. This took place on 11 October 1992 and was conducted by the Rev. William Weir. This coincided with the opening of our hall.

Thanks is due to Killinchy who gave us a gift of chairs for our hall. Our thanks also to Mr C Thompson for the gift of kitchen units and to the donors for the gift of some beautiful curtains.

The inside of our hall was decorated by members of the Table Tennis Club and church members, to whom thanks is due.

We had a successful Coffee Evening and Cake Sale in December in aid of our repair fund. Proceeds came to £765.00. We appreciated the help of our friends and neighbours and give them our thanks. Our Carol Service was held on 3 January.

Harriet Bell and Edith Thorpe

BLACKROCK: ST ANDREW'S

Wedding: Congratulations to Sonia Gillanders formerly of First Monaghan church who married William Reid of Shankill on 12 November.

We started the year with visits from several friends, all of whom took part in our worship. They were Walter Burrell from the Seamen's Christian Friend Society, Mrs Celia Kenny who is now assistant minister in Balerno outside Edinburgh and Rev. David McConaghy, minister of Cargycreevy and Loughaghery Presbyterian Churches in County Down.

We were glad to join with our friends in St Thomas's and St Thérèse's during the week of prayer for Christian Unity. On Sunday 7 February we look forward to a visit from the junior section of the Stedfast Band, at morning service.

A new captain has been appointed to the 22nd Dublin Company of the Boys' Brigade. He is Mr Billy Ellis, an enthusiastic and popular officer in the company for many years. We are grateful for the outstanding service of our retiring captain Mr Leslie Buttmer who led the company for thirty-one years. A celebration to mark Mr Buttmer's retirement will be held in the spring.

BRAY: ST ANDREW'S

Everyone in St Andrew's is delighted to have Hazel Reid back in Bray after her long 'exile' in the Belfast City Hospital. Hazel is now in residence in the Shannagh Bay Nursing Home on the seafront.

The Women's World Day of Prayer will be held in our church on Friday 5 March at 8 p.m. Members of all denominations will be taking part and the speaker will be Mrs Joy Lindsay, a member of our own congregation.

We would like to thank all those who took part in our January services - Mr Walter Burrell, Mrs Celia Kenny and Rev. David McConaghy, minister of Cargycreevy and Loughaghery Presbyterian Churches in County Down.

On 10 February at 3.00 p.m. the PWA are looking forward to welcoming Mrs Elizabeth Matthews who is a Women's Worker in Hill Street congregation, Lurgan.

Denis Campbell

CLONTARF

We along with Ormond Quay and Scots Church held the installation of our new minister, Rev. James Brogan, on Wednesday 2 December 1992 in Clontarf Presbyterian Church. We welcome the Rev. and Mrs Brogan and their twin boys, Stephen and John, to the congregation and hope that they will have a long and happy stay with us.

Our Carol Service was held on 13 December 1992 at 7.00 p.m. with participation by both the Girls' and Boys' Brigades and the ladies from the PWA. The tea and mince pies that were served afterwards were very much appreciated.

The Girls' Brigade held two fund-raising events: a table quiz in November 1992, the proceeds being divided between Children's Research in Our Lady's Hospital for Sick Children, Crumlin, and the Girls' Brigade Centenary Fund and Carol Singing in December 1992, the proceeds going to Children's Research.

It is with regret that we record the deaths of Mrs Ruby Pilsworth and Mrs Alice Haisley. We offer our deepest sympathy to both their families.

The Outreach Team, under the leadership of Miss Gillian Anderson, held their Annual Reunion from 1 - 3 January 1993. Approximately 70 children attended and a good day was had by all.

Valerie J Dagg

ORMOND QUAY AND SCOTS

A happy and peaceful New Year to you all!

On Wednesday 2 December 1992 the Rev. James Brogan, MA, was installed as Minister of our church and Clontarf. We pray that he will be happy with us as he adjusts to working in a city congregation.

Our Communion service on Sunday 4 October 1992 was conducted by our senior minister the Rev. J L Wynne. The service was held at the later time of 3 p.m. so that the members could have the opportunity of chatting with Mr Wynne. The Ladies' Committee provided tea.

Our combined Harvest Service was held on Sunday 27 September and was conducted by the Rev. George Ferguson. On the same day we were able to wish our dear friends Kathleen and Gordon Campbell congratulations on their 55th wedding anniversary. Kathleen was christened and married in our church.

Our lunchtime Carol Service raised £130.00. This was divided between the Salvation Army and the Samaritans. The PWA Sale held in November raised £825.00 in aid of the missions. To date our members have contributed around £500.00 towards the Christmas World Development Appeal.

We hear that Babs Cant is off on a trip to Australia and other places and we wish her an enjoyable holiday.

Ken and Betty Jackson will retire from the Dublin Presbyterian City Mission in June 1993 and their replacements Maurice and Sandra Brown arrive in January. Ken will show Maurice around until June. Ken and Betty will continue to worship with us and we trust Maurice and Sandra will also. We pray for both parties as they prepare for their new circumstances.

From Sunday 10 January 1993 the Chinese Gospel Church of Dublin will worship in our large hall every Sunday at 2 p.m. We wish them every blessing as they minister to the Chinese community in our city.

Congratulations to Carolyn and Ray O'Neill on the birth of their daughter Bebhinn Catherine on 11 November 1992.

On Saturday 2 January 1993 the death took place after a long illness of Mrs Irene Miller. Irene and her late husband Gordon were instrumental in setting up the Bowling Club in our church and also had long connections with the Badminton Club. To Brian, Lois and family we extend our sincere sympathy.

To the members of our congregation who are ill at present we send our greetings and pray they may soon be well again.

Robert Grealey

DROGHEDA

Harvest Service

The Rev. R S Ross of Carnlough and Cushendall Presbyterian Churches was the special preacher at the annual harvest service on 18 October at 7 p.m. There was a good representation of visitors from all local churches. The Mayor of Drogheda Frank Godfrey accompanied by the Mayoress was present, as were local clergy. The ladies received much appreciation for the tasteful way in which the church was decorated.

Death

The Rev. W H Martin, BA, died in Bangor, Co. Down, on 8 November 1992. Mr Martin was the most senior of the three senior ministers of the congregation. He retired in 1970. The funeral took place on 11 November to Clondeboy Cemetery after a service in Ballyholme Presbyterian Church. He is survived by his second wife and two daughters from his first marriage as well as various other relatives.

Christmas Service

The congregation took part in singing the well-known items of Christmas praise led by the minister.

Coming Events

The Annual Sale will be held towards the end of February.

ERVEY

Harvest Service

The Rev. Joan Scott of Garnerville Presbyterian Church, Belfast, was the guest preacher at the annual harvest service on 11 October 1992. Lindsey Archibald read a portion of Scripture. The church was well filled by a congregation representative of all sections of the community. Tea was served to all present after the service. The ladies were thanked for this and for the tasteful way in which the sanctuary was decorated. The soloist was Mr Edwin McDowell from Rathfriland.

Deaths

9 September 1992 Edward Clifford Porter of Kells. Mr Porter was a long-time elder and was also clerk of Kirk Session. He is survived by his wife Violet, also an elder and a former organist in the church.

3 November Albert Smyth, Kingscourt, aged 84 years. He is survived by a large number of relations.

Congratulations

Rev. James Brogan on his installation as minister of Clontarf and Ormond Quay and Scots.

Rev. Florence Taylor on her appointment as minister of Trinity Bailieborough, First Bailieborough and Corraneary.

Carol Service

This service took place on Sunday 20 December at 3 p.m. The members of the PWA took part as did the Sunday School pupils. The collection was devoted to PWA funds. Readers were Miss Jean Archibald and Mrs Irene Frazer. The Nativity Play by the Sunday School was organised by Mrs Margaret Archibald. Organists were Mrs O Gibson and Mary and Susan Armstrong, pupils in the Sunday School. There was a good attendance of people from the local churches. Two items were contributed by the local FÁS group.

During the course of the service a presentation was made to Mrs Violet Porter who had recently retired from the position of organist after a period of some 40 years. The minister, making the presentation, spoke of her loyalty and sterling service over these years. She was very seldom absent and was most co-operative with all the ministers who had served in Ervey church. The presentation took the form of a substantial cheque. Mrs Porter replied suitably saying how she had enjoyed her period at the organ and how much she had appreciated the help she had received over the years.

Sympathy

The Ramsay and Townley families have been bereaved by the loss of Mr John Reid, Ellesmere Port, Cheshire. He was the much-loved husband of Rita Townley.

His ashes will be interred in Ervey at a later date. Besides his wife he is survived by four children.

Charles McCurdy

Ervey Graveyard

Further to the Rev. Mr McCurdy's note in our latest issue (October 1992), we are pleased to be able to record that the cleaning up of the back portion of the graveyard was carried out by the local FÁS team.

Hon. Ed.

DUN LAOGHAIRE

The great day arrived, 11 October last, and is now long past of that Harvest Thanksgiving Service televised at York Road - some sort of a 'first'.

Like a photograph, which tends to flatter one's garden, so did the cameras of RTÉ with not a 'wart' to be seen. Quite the reverse, and to cap it all baby Karen Emma captivated all who saw her being baptised and she could not have been bettered by a Casting Agency.

As the perceptive will have already divined, this just didn't happen - indeed some twelve technicians armed with a 15-page A-sized Schedule covering every second, yes second, of the 45-minute transmission descended upon us two days before the event.

In retrospect, when browsing through this Schedule now, one is struck by how much longer things seemed to take at the time. How long would you think it takes the average congregation to sing their way through the six verses of the hymn "Fountain of Mercy" ? Five or six minutes? We were timed at 2 minutes 10 seconds!

Our Minister's welcome and prayer at the beginning of the Service took just 40 seconds, yet was delivered in his customary gracious and unhurried manner, with no suggestion of skimping. Likewise his sermon, which took eight minutes. Since the pulpit is immediately above where the undersigned sits, it will be merely observed that this seems modest by Presbyterian standards!

Bill Nesbitt

MULLINGAR

In early November our Minister, James Brogan, announced that he was leaving his present charge of Mullingar, Kells and Corboy to become minister of Clontarf and Ormond Quay and Scots. We wish him all of God's blessings as he, Olive and the boys settle into their new surroundings. After five years with us, we know that the congregations now in his charge can look forward to sermons of the highest standard, with their delivery in dulcet Scottish tones an added bonus. We also however look forward to the future. Rev. Charles McCurdy, MA, of Drogheda and Ervey has been appointed Convener in charge of the vacancy and we have all been very impressed by his efficiency and courtesy in the way in which he has handled this extra burden to his normal duties. For this we thank him sincerely.

Our little congregation in Mullingar continues, though small in numbers but big in fellowship, to bear witness as best it can. During the summer we were visited on separate occasions by two of our former families, Brian and Edith Mulholland and Malcolm and Iris McNicol. It is times like these that make one realise that small numbers have an intimacy and warmth not easily achieved in a larger gathering. The kettle was put on and the Benediction did not even mark the half way point in our time together.

Warmest good wishes from Mullingar.

Wilson and Jeannette Porter

VACANCY: KELLS, CORBOY AND MULLINGAR

We have received the following note from the Rev. Charles McCurdy, MA, convener of the vacancy.

The three congregations have been making preparations to meet the Union Commission with regard to the vacancy. Happy and constructive meetings have been held with the convener and the normal forms for submission to the Commission have been filled in. Mr Ferris Beattie, Kells, Mr Victor Murphy, Corboy, and Mr Wilson Porter, Mullingar, will represent the congregations when they visit Belfast.

Services will normally be taken by the Rev. George Ferguson except 28 February when the Rev. J L Wynne, senior minister of Clontarf and Ormond

Quay and Scots, will officiate. Hopefully the appointment of a new minister will not be long delayed. As this is a Home Mission charge the responsibility lies with the appointment committee in agreement with the united charge.

WATERFORD: ST PATRICK'S

By the time this issue of the bulletin appears the Rev. Frederick Wilson Vincent, BA, BD, will have been installed in Waterford (23 January). Mr Vincent has been since his ordination in 1990 assistant minister in Malone congregation, Belfast. He is one of a number of young ministers who in recent times have moved south to labour in congregations of the Dublin and Munster Presbytery.

Catching up with PRESBYTERY NEWS

New Member

Presbytery was pleased to welcome the Rev. Katherine Meyer to its membership. Ms Meyer is the Community Minister at Abbey Church as well as Chaplain to Trinity College, Dublin City University and Dublin Institute of Technology. Ms Meyer who was installed on 13 September 1992 was formerly Assistant at Belmont Presbyterian Church, Belfast.

Presbytery Representatives

The Rev. James Brogan has been appointed our Representative to PACT succeeding the Rev. David Bruce.

Mr W Jameson has been appointed to represent us on the Phibsborough School Fund in succession to Mr A Orr.

New Superintendent of City Mission

Mr Maurice Brown, a native of Belfast, has been appointed to succeed Mr Ken Jackson as Superintendent of the Dublin City Mission. Mr Brown, who studied at the Belfast Bible College and also at the Irish Bible College, Tipperary, worked as a department manager in the Belfast Co-Operative Store. He is married with two sons.

New Presbytery Agent

The Rev. Jack Drennan who recently left our Presbytery has been replaced as World Development and Environment Agent by the newly-arrived Rev. Katherine Meyer.

THE SCOTS CENTRE

The Scots Centre is a facility which has already been made available to all Presbyterians and it is hoped that this will extend to the general public in the near future. You may well ask 'What has this to do with me?' and my reply to you would be 'As much or as little as you wish!' We have the facilities for photocopying, reducing and enlarging for only 5p per sheet. This is probably one of the cheapest services in town. Perhaps you have an important document that you would like to have printed out on a laser printer but live many miles from Dublin. It is quite easy to either send or fax us a copy of what you need and for a moderate charge your work can be done for you!

However this is not the only facility that we offer. We have a selection of Christian videos which can be hired at £2.00 per showing and we are developing a postal service for those who cannot come into the Centre. Not only can you borrow videos but also Christian books from the Scots Library. At the moment we have over two hundred books with subjects ranging from the social issues such as abortion and AIDS to devotional subjects and Christian novels. Pamphlets, resource packs and some cassettes are also available. You can become a member of the Scots Centre and use all these facilities for a membership fee of only £2.50.

Maybe you would like to know more about these and other resource materials and we would be only too happy to send you a catalogue or have a chat at the office with you. Drop us a line or come and say 'Hello!' any time you are in town for the morning. We can offer you a cheap cup of coffee and time to browse through the books and videos at your leisure. My name is LIZ and I will be only too pleased to meet with you.
